PERSONAL STATEMENT

A highly motivated Computer Science graduate with proven expertise in video editing, technical project development and management, and leadership/Team Leading within academic and ambassadorial roles. I am Skilled in conceptualising and producing content for marketing campaigns, I have hands-on experience in handling sensitive data, editing, and content management. I have led teams during high-pressure Clearing operations for the University of Greenwich and contributed to the training and mentoring of new ambassadors joining the team. Adaptable and effective in multidisciplinary environments, I have a track record of engaging with diverse stakeholders, leading student societies, and excelling in both independent and team-based projects. Recognised for innovative problem solving, a passion for technology integration and automations, and a commitment to advancing digital engagement and technical excellence, I bring a proactive, solutions-focused approach to every role I undertake.

PROJECTS

- comptech.gre/hunt - An NFC based In-Person treasure hunt
With the use of NFC tags, I created a treasure hunt experience for new students joining the University during their Open Days. The project involved designing clues, programming NFC tags to provide hints, and setting up the physical locations around the campus to enhance student engagement and interaction.
- Final Year Project: HandTyper - Hand Gesture based PC Interaction
The aim of this project is to introduce the potential use of Hand Gesture Recognition as a medium to interact with the commonplace PC; Outside of using the traditional mouse-and-keyboard approach. This project involves the development of a Computer Vision model which would emulate a mouse and keyboard. The keyboard will be done through the use of sign language translation of the British Sign Language (BSL) and mouse operation would be done with the simple use of Landmark detection across the video feed of the user.
- University Open Day Guides w/ NFC Tags
To assist prospective students during the University Open Days whilst upholding the university's commitment to sustainability. I introduced a new system where staff members would have NFC tags linking towards a digital guide for the open day. This reduced the need for printed materials and allowed for easy access to information via smartphones.
